WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 .- The annual report of Supervising Special Agent W. S. Chance, of the Treasury Department, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1901, shows that the special agents have made 125 seizures, valued at $48,823, for violations of the customs laws, and have caused the recovery, on account of attempted irregularities, of about $450,000. It says that pium, Mexican drawn work, clothing made by London tailors, horses, cattle, wool, drugs and other articles have been smuggled, and that important arrests in connection therewith have been made. The report also states that, after full consideration at the department, the collector of customs at New York, on March 1901, effected a reorganization of the method of examining the baggage of passengers arriving from abroad, in which gross irregularities had been discovered, and as a result the duties collected on such aggage between March 1 and July 1, 1901 vere five times the amount collected from the same source in the same months of 1900. The special agents give constant attention to undervaluations, and the report the treasury thereto. A change in the law dead at his home in this city. He was relating to informers' compensation, protecting such informers from publicity, is recommended.

The seal catch on the Prybyloff islands in 1901 was 22,672, an increase of 202 over the catch of 1900. Notwithstanding this, a considerable decrease in the seal herd is reported. The pelagic catch of the British sealing fleet in 1901 is about two-thirds that of 1900, and the British Colombian newspapers express alarm at the anticipated early extinction of the Prybyloff seal herd. The salmon catch in Alaskan waters in the year 1901 will exceed two million cases, an increase of about 25 per cent.
